"Mystic Scenic Studios plays a large role in helping designers select the right staging materials based on their budget and venue. From trade shows to theatrical productions, I have seen multiple conceptual designs turn into reality because the right products have been used. If there is an event where people will be performing there is a good chance they'll be using Harlequin Floors. Many designers will either opt for, or even request that Harlequin be used because the company maintains its solid reputation for producing high quality performance flooring. This fine quality prompted us to purchase Harlequin Standfast™ heavy-duty floors for a recent multi-venue stage event. When Harlequin flooring is on a bid package, we never second guess."
